A meeting of The Pass executive and captains and teams of the Victory Loan was held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Wednesday evening. Judging from the manner in which all are becoming interested in the loan, there is no doubt but that the allotment assigned for this district will be well over-subscribed.

Losses of $470,000 will be paid out by the Alberta Hall Insurance board for damage done during the season.

Charles Wright, a conductor on the C.P.R., at Red Deer, was drowned while hunting ducks at Pine Lake on Saturday.

Meeting of Patriotic Fund

Wednesday night's meeting of the Blairmore Branch of the Patriotic Fund was attended by Chairman Shaw, Secretary Harmer, Messdames Howe and Pinkney, and Messrs. Burns, Dutil, Hunter, Montalbetti, Gillis, Pinkney, McLean and Bartlett.

Considerable business was gone through, including the reception of one application for assistance from the Fund.

Towards the close of the meeting, Mr. Shaw tendered his resignation as chairman, stating that he had been called to the Calgary Inspectorate and would not be able to fill the office for the balance of the term. On motion his resignation was accepted, and Mr. Gillis was duly elected to fill that office till the end of the year.

General regret was expressed at the resignation of Mr. Shaw, who during his brief stay in The Pass has always been an enthusiastic supporter of all benevolent enterprises and interested in every undertaking that meant for the betterment of the community and its people. His efforts on behalf of the Red Cross and Patriotic Funds have been such as to win for him the highest esteem from all, and The Pass loses in Mr. Shaw one of its best and most highly respected citizens. Mr. Shaw hopes to leave for his new field of labor in Calgary district in the very near future.

The committee in charge of the masquerade ball given under the auspices of the Night of Gladness Club, desire to thank all who patronized the event or in any way lent towards its success. They also state that since announcing that a dance would be given by them on November the 27th they have learned that arrangements had already been made for a dance to be given under auspices of the local Returned Soldiers' Bureau on November the 29th, and that they have decided to withdraw their proposition in favor of the latter, which the Club will host to the limit.

Well authenticated reports that have reached New York reveal the fact that Germany has gone into the business of counterfeiting on a big scale. It will be remembered that she was proved to have forged American passports for the use of spies and agents. It now appears that she is flooding Russia with counterfeit Russian bank notes issued to the amount of 3,000,000,000 roubles ($1,500,000,000). The notes are marvelously engraved and the initial is so perfect that only the most experienced experts can detect the forged from the real notes.

CLOSING OUT. Mrs. Todd has decided to close out her millinery business in Blairmore for this season, and for the next few days everything in stock, comprising the best and most serviceable and stylish articles in Millinery, Fancy Goods, Women's and Children's Wear, will be offered at sacrifice prices. Also special bargains in Furs of every description. An early call will pay you.

The Germans have evacuated Chemin-des-Dames front, on which some of the greatest battles of the war were fought. The German retreat from the Chemin-des-Dames is said to mark the end of the great battles of the war.

Meeting Blairmore 'Dads'

The regular meeting of the Blairmore council was held last night, when Mayor Beebe presided, and Councillors Rosse, Dutil, Lagace and McVey were in attendance.

Following the reading and approving of the minutes of last regular meeting and of a special meeting held on November the 5th, sundry accounts totalling $24.35 were passed for payment.

A communication from the Trusts & Guarantee Co., addressed to the Mayor, was read, setting forth a proposition to sell to the town in consideration of taxes due to the amount of some $2,300, the entire light service line of the Rocky Mountain Cement Co. The letter stated that the T. & G. Co. had had the line appraised, and that they had found that the copper wire in itself was valued at more than $2,500, to say nothing of the several transformers and other equipment.

Councillor Rosse questioned the right of the Council to take further burden upon their shoulders, claiming that financially the town was up against it already, and that in his opinion some private company or corporation should appropriate the light system for the purpose of operation.

Other members of the Council expressed views for and against the purchasing or leasing of the system, following which a by-law was introduced and read a first and second time and ordered to be published for the benefit of the citizens, and to be considered by them at the municipal polls on December 10th. The by-law will be found elsewhere in this issue.

A by-law was introduced by Councillor Dutil, appointing Frank Wright as returning officer for the forthcoming municipal election.

Alex. Morency appealed to the Council for settlement of an account due him, which he claimed had been withheld by the Secretary-Treasurer at the instance of the Council because Morency had refused to pay a business tax. He stated that one of his reasons for opposing the business tax was that since the new piece of legislation came into effect tradesmen following his line of business had been imported from Fernie and other points to do local work and pay no tax. One of the parties responsible for these importations was a member of the council who was also a party to the bringing about of the unfair legislation. Morency stated that when the council could show him that any of the imported mechanics had paid the business tax or any other assessment he would be only too pleased to pay his tax, but on the other hand he intended to take proper steps to collect his overdue account.

The question was laid over for the present and the Council adjourned.

"So you have twins at your house" said Mrs. Nabor to little Jack.

"Yesum," he said soberly, "two of them."

"What are they going to call them, any dear?"

"Well, I don't know for sure, but I think their names is Thunder and Lightning," 'cause that's the names papa called them when the doctor came in and told him about them."

Compulsory Service in 1863 Voluntary System Gave Place to Conscription Under Lincoln.

It is a matter of record in United States history that President Lincoln, after attempting to prosecute the Civil War with volunteer troops, at last, in 1863, turned to conscription in order to secure the necessary forces.

Since Lincoln is regarded as one of the greatest statesmen this continent has produced, it is instructive at the present stage of Canadian history, to see how he dealt with the problems that arose.

The President was warned that grave disorders might follow the enforcement of the conscription law, which it was argued, was in opposition to the constitutional privileges and liberties of the citizen.

Lincoln took the ground that democracy means an equal share in the burden, as well as in the blessings of a republic, and decided on the firm enforcement of the law. All opposition was firmly repressed.

On entering the present war, the United States profited by past experience and promptly adopted compulsory service.

Now just Canada has adopted a similar course and is in a better position to do her full share and through opposition is unlooked for, repressive measures are provided in the Act.

Chautauque will be in Strathmore on November 22 to 24.

Prevention of Bribery All Necessary Steps Taken to Prevent Corruption Under Military Service Act.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—In setting up the machinery for the operation of the Military Service Act, special care has been taken to select only officials of the most trustworthy character. In the operation of the Act, attempts at bribery are always possible, in Canada no less than in other countries.

Attempt to bribe any member of an exemption tribunal or medical board, or a military representative, means a term of imprisonment of not less than one year and not more than five years. It will be very difficult for anyone so inclined to set aside the regulations of the Military Service Act by corruption.

Not all of the preparations made to guard against venality, and unfairness in the operation of the Act can be made public, but it may be announced that attempts to bribe officials, in view of the checks and supervisions to be imposed, will be an exceedingly hazardous business.

A lady called at our office on Monday morning, and after bidding us the time of day, remarked: "I'm quite a near neighbor of yours now—living just across the river."

"Indeed," we replied. "Hope you'll drop in some day." The woman disappeared.

Newspapers And Merchants

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business, general stores, dry goods, groceries, furniture dealers, manufacturing establishments, automobiles, mechanics, professional men and in fact all classes of business men. This does not mean that you should have a whole, half or even quarter page ad in every issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. He is the man who expects the newspaper to do the most free advertising for his town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town but refuses to advertise his business is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of any town depends upon the live, wide awake and liberal advertising.

What Our Flag Stands For

What our flag stands for is a subject that should be taught our boys and girls as soon as they are old enough to learn it, says Flannery in the Toronto Mail and Empire.

Emblems are used by religious and fraternal bodies to teach lessons to their members of fealty, reverence, devotion and obedience. The church, the Masonic body, municipal corporations, fraternal and other societies make use of emblems. The influence of emblems is by no means confined to societies and churches. The very crest of a nation, the crest which distinguishes the ring on the finger, or pressed in the wax on the letter, have their silent influence on all who see them. They are evidences of faith pledged and kept, of deeds which have deserved and won distinction which antecede rewards to those who have proved themselves worthy of public recognition.

But though there be emblems many and of varied significance, there is one of peculiar and outstanding merit: The flag of our country, that great emblem of freedom, of justice, of civil and religious liberty, the sign manual of the state's authority; the shield of protection to the law-abiding citizen; a flag beneath whose folds it is a high privilege to be born and in whose defense it is one of the greatest of earthly honors to die.

We cannot begin too soon in life to teach our children to look upon and treat with reverence the emblem of their country's honor, faith and loyalty—our national flag.

Something Your Friends Will Appreciate

The flight of the season again reminds us that we are approaching the threshold of Christmas, and of course everybody will be sending their friends some kind of remembrance. The one most in vogue is a private greeting card. We have just received a varied and complete line of Christmas and New Year's greeting cards which are now on exhibition at The Enterprise office and may be seen any time. We would suggest to those wishing the best and still the less expensive way of remembering their friends during the festive season, that they make their choice at once from our stock of private greeting cards.

A Soldier's Prayer

Rev. R. W. Anglin is the following line which were composed by his brother—
—Pte. J. Crawford Anglin, of the 4th Universities Company, P.P.C.I.— a few days before his death, June 2nd, 1916, at the third battle of Ypres.
Lord, ere I join the deadly strife,
And battle's terrors dare,
First would I render soul and life
To Thine Almighty care.
And when grim death in smoke wreaths
Rebels
Comes thundering over the scene,
What fears can reach a soldier's heart
Whose trust in Thee has been?

(The above is taken from The Free Lance, published at New Glasgow, N.S. Friends in The Free will remember private Anglin, who during 1914 served as pastor of the Methodist church at Hillcrest.)

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

Weymouth Men Hear About Military Service

The following article is clipped from the Halifax Herald of recent date:
Weymouth, October 28.—A very large audience greeted Lieutenant Putnam's talk in the Green Lantern theatre to hear him explain the Military Service Act. J. F. Flanagan took the chair, and in a very few gracious words introduced the speaker to the waiting people. In a clear, plain and forceful manner he set forth the meaning of the draft, so that he who runs may read. The duties of the man called, and those of the tribunal, with all its attendant objections, were put somewhat very favorably with any place in such a slight and understandable English that no one could possibly fail to know his obligation. Such clearly expressed explanations must do a great deal to enlighten the people in regard to this most important law of the land. The effort must have made its impression, for although an opportunity was given to ask questions, none were asked. Lieutenant Putnam's mission will without doubt help his audience to see their duty and to assist every drafted man to register his will. This neighborhood has

The line between Canada and the United States is now the only undeveloped frontier in the world.

The Military Service Act, 1917

DON'T DELAY! Do It TODAY

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT is passed; the Proclamation issued October 13th. It is now the bounden duty of every man in Class One to report for service or claim exemption. This includes all bachelors and widowers without children (not otherwise excepted) who were 20 years old on the 13th October, 1917, and whose 34th birthday did not occur before January 1st, 1917.

What To Do

Go to your Post Office and ask for the form for reporting for service or for claiming exemption. The form contains clear instructions for filling in. Do this not later than NOVEMBER 10th.

Beware of the Last Minute Rush

With so many thousands of reports and claims to be dealt with, the rush of Class One Men will grow heavier day by day. You will waste less of your time and serve your own best interests if you avoid the inevitable rush on the last days.

The law is being enforced with the Government and the People firmly behind it. Obey the law. Do it today.

Why does Canada Raise Money by Selling Bonds?

BONDS are issued payable in ten or twenty years, as the case may be. It means that repayment of the money will be spread over ten or twenty years instead of being raised by taxation to meet current expenditures.

To raise by taxation all the money as fast as it is needed to carry on Canada's share in winning the war, would be an unbearable burden upon the people.

It would mean that more than a million dollars a day would have to be raised right now.

But to raise money by selling Canada's Victory Bonds means that those of the next generation who will benefit by the sacrifices this generation is making; who will share in the freedom this generation is fighting for and largely paying for—will also pay their share.

And when you buy Canada's Victory Bonds you make a first-class business investment in a security that is absolutely safe, likely to enhance in value after the war, and bearing a good rate of interest. You help the country by keeping open the British market for Canadian products and this helps the general welfare in which you share.

And again, every Canadian who buys a Victory Bond becomes a financial partner or backer of Canada in the war.

When you buy a Canada Victory Bond

you give a personal pledge that you are going to help to win the war.

Every man and woman in Canada can help to win the war by buying Canada's Victory Bonds. And Canada wants the personal, individual interest and co-operation of every man and woman in the country.

The buying of Victory Bonds by the whole people unites them in a determination to win the war.

Every purchase of Canada's Victory Bonds is a blow for freedom against the tyranny of German Kultur.

Every bond sold is a new guarantee that Canada is in the war to the finish, until victory is with the Allies and the world has been made safe to live in.

Every bond you buy is a new pledge that Canada will remain true to herself, the Empire, the Allies and to freedom's cause.

So it is both patriotic and good business to

Convenient Substitutes Recommended

Canadians who are willing to follow the advice of the Food Controller in order to help to save urgently-needed wheat flour, beef and bacon for the soldiers, will find a considerable number of wholesome substitutes.

To save wheat flour, barley may be used for soup and barley flour for thickening; corn meal for bread and cereal; oatmeal for cereal and oat muffins. Potatoes may be used in a variety of appetizing dishes—and when they are served bread may sometimes be omitted from the meal. At present the price of corn meal is high, but the new crop in the United States is very large and will be coming on the market soon. The question of price has to be carefully considered by the great majority of people, but those who can afford to do so should substitute in part other cereals for wheat even if the price of the substitutes should be higher.

For meat, fish is a particularly suitable substitute because of the variety available and the abundant sources of supply in the Dominion. Beans have nearly the same food values as meat.

By a careful selection of other foods the consumption of meat may be very considerably reduced, especially by persons who are not engaged in heavy manual work.

And remember, the primary rea-

Details of Victory Loan Are Now Made Public

Sir Thomas White minister of finance, has announced the particulars and terms of Canada's Victory Loan as follows: Subscription books will be opened on Monday, November 12, for five, ten and twenty year bonds, dated Dec. 1, 1917. Interest paid half yearly, June 1 and December 1.

Bonds will be in denominations as low as $50. The price of the new loan is to be par, 100 cents on the dollar, for 5 1/2 per cent. bonds, with the privilege of spreading the payments over a period of five months in monthly instalments. In view of this privilege of spreading the payments, and as a full six months' interest has been paid the purchasers on June 1, 1918, the bonus of interest thus allowed will reduce the price, so that the bonds yield the investor 5.61 per cent. on the 20 year bonds, 6.68 on the 10 year bonds, and 5.81 per cent on the five year bonds. This loan will carry conversion privileges into future issues and will be free of any present or future Dominion taxes, including income taxes.

Holders of Dominion of Canada debenture stock, Oct. 1, 1919, and of bonds of the three preceding Dominion of Canada war loan issues, have the privilege of surrendering their bonds in part payment, for subscriptions to bonds of this issue under the following conditions: Debenture stock due October 1, 1919, at par and accrued interest; War loan bonds, due December 1, 1925, at 6 1/2 per cent and accrued interest. The two foregoing will be accepted in part payment for bonds of any of the three maturities of this issue.

War loan bonds due October 31, 1931, at 9 1/2 per cent and accrued interest. War loan bonds due March 1, 1937, at 10 per cent and accrued interest. These will be accepted in part payment for bonds of the 1937 maturity only of this issue.

Cowley Happenings

John Gurry, of Beaver Mines, was a Cowley visitor last Tuesday.

Mr. Bartlett, of Blairmore, was a Cowley visitor on Thursday last.

Messrs. James Smyth, H. Franc and R. Littleton spent Tuesday southeast of Pincher on a shooting trip.

Mr. "Si" Saunders, of Pincher Creek, spent a couple of days in Cowley this week, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Kean.

The Heath Creek school is now completed and was opened on Monday with Miss Patterson, of Blairmore, as teacher.

The weather is ideal for this time of year. Many farmers are taking advantage of this in getting their fall ploughing done.

Thomas Shepherd has built a concrete dipping tank for cattle, which will be at the disposal of the public at a small charge.

J. L. Weddle, of Tonasket, Wash., who has been visiting his old home district, left for Washington on Thursday morning.

E. L. Morrison, of the Alberta Pacific Grain Co's elevator, has been relieved by Mr. Tait, of Hinesvain, Manitoba, Mr. Morrison going to Lethbridge.

After residing in England for many months, Mrs. Noel Cox has returned home. Mrs. Cox says that there were one thousand passengers on the steamer that she came on.

Samuel Tuslan is at the time of writing moving his residence from Powlettville to a more convenient lot in the old townsite. The expedition is under the direction of Mr. Dwyer.

On Tuesday there was quite a bit of excitement and anxiety when the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell (around four or five years), tried to extinguish the flame of a match by butting her foot on it, when her dress caught fire, the flames reaching her face and burning her considerably before the fire could be quenched. Mrs. Robert Littleton is nursing the child. We sincerely hope that no serious trouble will result.

On Halloween night things were placing themselves in mysterious ways by the many elves that were flying through the country. The air seemed to be full of black cats, witches, bats, owls, etc., from curious noises heard by the natives on their window panes, and so on. When one of the most prominent citizens of the village fired two blank cartridges, the odd creatures of the night flew to the country where most of the changing about was made.

A German On German Iniquities

Nuns are More Cruel Than the Turks

For rather more than three years the world has waited to hear the truth about Germany from German lips. It seemed almost impossible that there should not be some man with the courage to bear witness against unexampled brutality, ruthlessness, and duplicity. Such a man, for the salvation of the Fatherland with truth-telling, has at last been found in Dr. Henry Stuermer, former correspondent of the Kölnische Zeitung. Invalued from the army after fighting in the Mauthausen Lake region, he was sent by his newspaper, in 1915, to Turkey, where he beheld the depots to which Turkish brutality could descend, and took the measure of German cowardice and cynicism, which could aid and abet the Armenian massacres. Deeply moved to indignation, he sent reports of what he had seen back to Cologne, reports which the censor suppressed, and for which he was dismissed by his employer. When he still persisted in outspoken condemnation of the government, he was recalled to the colors, although declared absolutely unfit for service. How he finally managed to get to Switzerland is not known. But now, at the sacrifice of his whole future, without hope of reward in any direction, he publishes his book, "Two Years of War in Constantinople," an indictment of Germany and her allies and damning as any brought against her by her enemies.

He begins his testimony with his service in the Mauthausen campaign, when he met many officers who had come from Belgium and France and told the same stories of German treachery as those which appeared in the Bryce report. In his own words, the Bryce report is "a masterpiece of moderate superior was most prolific in this type of reminiscences:

"When we wanted to make a requisition or plunder a house, we had a very simple form of procedure: one of my men was to knock down a Belgian gun through a cellar window into the house in question. Then we made a search, but published as if we found only one rifle, we were ordered to confiscate everything, without pity, and bring it to the people."

One of the best-known German correspondents, Paul Schneider, who says Stuermer, cynically, tells the truth in plain, but publishes the government's version, told him that when he was in Belgium he saw much worse things than this. He assured Stuermer that "there had been thousands of cases of women and young girls of the Belgian and French families" assaulted by German soldiers who remained unpunished in most instances.

Stuermer proceeds to tell of the things he himself saw in Constantinople, with his hands raised as to what he was told by German eyewitnesses. He beheld the commencement, in Constantinople, of that terrible via crucis upon which thousands of Armenian men, women and children were forced to set out, and which, if fate were kind, ended in death on the desolate plains of Asia Minor, or the parched shores of the Euphrates. For months he was daily witness of troops of Armenians driven through the streets of Pera for deportation to the death camps. Each city quarter had to deliver its quota of victims. Men and boys went on foot, the women crowded in street cars, every evening down to Galata. Hundreds were kept in the police station, on the main street of the European quarter, one day, heard groans of men of humane instincts, who had been horrified bystanders, that nothing written about the Armenian massacres can possibly have been exaggerated. It does not need the corroboration of his fellow-countrymen, the German missionaries on the spot, who have been equally outspoken on this subject, to induce belief in Stuermer's honesty. His graphic and passionate account of what he saw and of itself compels belief.

Having established Turkish brutality, guilt in this Armenian slaughter, the "most terrible massacre since Nero's days," he proceeds to accuse Germany as the perpetrator of the whole race. "Consciencelessness, cowardice, cynical levity" are some of the terms with which he brands the men of his own countrymen who deliberately washed their hands in the blood of almost a million human beings. "How do I come to make such a terrible charge?" he asks. "Because of the fact that—when the Armenian Patriarch used to come to our ambassador with tears in his eyes, begging for help—and I witnessed this scene more than once at our embassy—no interest was shown for anything but German prestige, wounded vanity, but never any compassion—for the fate of the Armenian people." The German, he says, had Turkey absolutely in hand, and could have put an end to the massacres at once, had they earnestly desired to do so. Much for his indictment of official and diplomatic Germany. He also makes a much more fearful accusation against individual officers, who were more ferocious than the Turks themselves, and assisted in the deportations at certain places in Asia Minor. Unbelievable as it may seem, German officers were found who, like the Ottoman authorities had not the heart to fire on women and children taking refuge within doors, opened their guns on the buildings and engaged in "cynical artillery practice." Stuermer knows that the German ambassador had received complaints about a case of this kind, which were forwarded to Berlin without result.

This book by Dr. Stuermer, a native German, of unquestionable patriotism, who served faithfully at the front till his health was shattered, a man of well-known honesty, courage, and uprightness, is bound to make a deep impression outside of Germany as well as within her boundaries. For such a publication cannot be excluded by any amount of vigilance. It will cross the border in the hands and on the lips of travellers, returning from Switzerland, if in no other way. Meanwhile Dr. Stuermer himself must be regarded as an ornament to the profession of journalism—a newspaper man with the courage for truth—From the New York Evening Post.

The C. N. R. Handles Vast Quantity of Grain

One Hundred Million Bushels Handled Over System During Last Crop Year

One hundred million bushels of grain were loaded and handled on the lines of the Canadian Northern Railway system in Western Canada during the crop year ended August 31.

In all 88,953 cars were handled over the system. The Saskatchewan and Alberta, 60,551 cars were moved through to Port Arthur and the port of call of that Lake Superior port.

Wheat constituted the major portion of the total handling, and was destined to relieve to a considerable degree, the intense demand of the western plains, the entire crop, on the other side of the Atlantic.

In 1908, when the influence of the Canadian Northern Railway construction was beginning to be reflected in larger production on the western plains, the entire crop, on the other side of the Atlantic.

There are no statistics available of the capacity of the grain elevators in Canada in 1906, but official figures of the department of the interior show that in 1900, there were in Canada a total capacity of 18,329,352 bushels. In 1916 and 1917, there were 22,725,000 bushels, a total capacity of 19,344,000 bushels.

Of these Manitoba has a capacity of 2,725,000 bushels, Saskatchewan 2,886,000 and British Columbia 1,793,000. The capacity of the terminal elevators in Canada is given as 41,750,000 bushels. These are located chiefly at Port Arthur and Port William at the head of Canadian Great Lakes navigation. The C. N. R. elevator at Port Arthur, capacity 6,500,000 bushels, being the largest consolidated elevator plant in the world.

Care of Blankets

Here is a satisfactory way of washing blankets. Slice half a cake of washing soap into two quarts of water. Set on the stove and stir until dissolved, add cold water in a large tub. To this soapy water add four table spoons of powdered borax. Soak the blankets in this overnight. Then wash them in this water, rinse them twice in cold water, wring, and hang the blankets in the sun. This recipe will wash four blankets. Be sure and use only cold water and they will come out as soft and beautiful as new. A teaspoonful of glycerine, added to the rinsing water, will improve them.

The Pariahs of the People
The war moves forward to its inevitable conclusion, and even the devoted subjects of the Kaiser cannot escape from such cowardly acts have been committed by their armies in this country and France will detect the allies from their purpose while they will certainly constitute the Germans the pariahs among the peoples of the world in the long days of peace which will at last dawn. London Daily Telegraph.

Lithuanians Loyal
President Wilson has been assured of the loyalty of the 500,000 unassimilated Lithuanians in the United States who are represented as being ready to fight on the side of the Allies to regain the liberty which their country once lost through European diplomatic intrigue.

The Housewives' View
The housewife, with years of experience and frugal providing, and using and saving, almost resents it as an insult to her common sense, when she is told to cook a meal in a "month of Sundays," rolling up to her door in a shining car and preaching the necessity of saving, and asking her to avoid waste while she never wastes a scrap of meat to the bone, and then uses it for soup.—Petersboro Examiner.

Hear With Their Eyes

Training of Deaf Children Is Little Short of Miraculous

Among the twelve hundred pupils of the Parker School, one of Chicago's largest public schools, there are more than a hundred children, ranging in age from five to fifteen years who have never heard. The sound of a human voice. Yet to distinguish these children from their fellows is a feat because of an imperfection in their speech or their inability to understand the speech of others would be a difficult task. Although born deaf, they have been taught to speak almost as well as hearing children, while their skill in reading the lips of a speaker is little short of miraculous.

If you should go to the Parker School any fine morning you would probably see on the broad lawn in front of the school various groups of children at play under the watchful eyes of their teachers. But it is not likely that your attention would be attracted to any particular group because of anything unusual in the children's manner of addressing their teacher or one another; all are romping, laughing, and shouting merrily. Yet the chances are that some of these children are among the hundred who have never known the blessed privilege of hearing.

Entering the school, you might go from room to room, and not discover for quite a while anything peculiar in the manner of instructing certain of the classes—in some of the rooms you will find the same little tots, who cannot hear, that you passed on the lawn. If their eyes happen to be turned away from the visitor upon his entrance, their attention is not attracted, since their organs of sight have to perform the duty of the usual ears. Should they see the newcomer, however, they will smile a welcome, then direct their gaze once more to the lips of their teacher. It is this concentration of gaze which first betrays their physical handicap. All the knowledge they receive must come through the sense of sight.

Harems of Mohammeds a Puzzle

If Solomon were running his justice shop today he could find a French government a good turn. There are many Mohammedans among the French Colonial troops and many of them have sizeable harems. The French law provides the widow of a French soldier is entitled to a pension. So the war office is trying to reach a basis for splitting pensions half a dozen ways.

Food Conservation in U. S.

German Propagandists Have to Be Contended With

"That our enemies on the other side of the fence are fighting our plan is one of the best recommendations that plan can have, and to me the most significant sign as to the value of Food Pledge Week is the fact that the pro-Germans in the United States have recognized its importance and are fighting it hard."

This statement is made by Dr. R. L. Wilbur, president of Stanford University and head of the food conservation division of the United States food administration while discussing the antagonism of the Prussian propagandists to the coming campaign to line up the American people in the interests of food conservation.

Evidences of this statement, Dr. Wilbur declares, are brought to light daily from all parts of the country and in the most subtle ways.

"If you sign the Pledge Card, your home will be invaded later and the goods you have canned will be taken away." "It is a trick of the government, whose officials will requisition all your preserves." Among the colored people of the south the propagandists have been circulating a rumor that the intention is to take food away from the negroes and give it to the whites. Even the pro-German baker employee has been charged with doing his bit for the Kaiser by burning the bread in his charge.

Dr. Wilbur believes that attacks like these can be easily overcome, once a group of fighting Americans know how to line up and insist on food conservation. "Their chief significance," he concludes, "is to show that the pro-German propagandists realize as well as we do, that a huge army of untrained people can organize themselves and will test whether or not the United States is really a democracy. They themselves will prove their form of government worth fighting for."

U. S. Vessels for Canadian Trade

An order-in-council permits the United States to engage in coasting trade of Canada on the inland waters between Lake Superior points and Montreal, without penalties being imposed for the remainder of 1917. It is further provided that this regulation shall remain in force as long as similar privileges are granted Canadian vessels in the U. S.—Journal of Commerce.

Was It the Cow's Fault?

Milk and Feed Record Forms to Help the Dairyman

Supposing that you keep a cow giving five thousand pounds of milk a year, for which you receive seventy dollars cash, how much profit does that cow make? This is not a ridiculous, but simply a query that every dairyman should be in a position to answer. Leaving aside the "higher accounting" side of revenue and expenses per cow—those persistent items of rent, interest, taxes, depreciation, etc.—and taking only income from milk or fat, and cost of feed, are you then in a position to say definitely that each cow you keep does make a good clear profit above feed cost?

Whether the feed is valued at forty or eighty dollars, is there such profit that a fair return is made to you for the labor expended? For revenue and expense just balance showing no margin of profit at all, there must surely be something wrong; your labor has to be paid for. Milk and feed record forms may be of use in application to the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, so that the profits made by each cow may be ascertained. Perhaps some cows would show profit if fed better, some won't. Many men in all provinces on the cow testing register at Ottawa show thirty and sixty dollars clear profit per cow above feed cost. You may have made more than that; if you made less, was it entirely the cow's fault?

Their Trouble-Makers

The fear of Russia is married to a German woman, who is said to have wept at every German defeat. He lost his throne. The king of Greece was married to a German woman, to whose influence is credited the ignoble part of Greece in the early stages of the war which cost Constantine his throne. The king of Sweden is married to a German woman, to whom is credited the base part which Sweden has been playing in serving the Kaiser. Next!

Not a Pussy Beau Brummell
A lady wrote a horrified letter to the newspapers that she actually saw Lloyd George in Cockspur street with a crack shot across his left boot. The newspaper claims that Lloyd George is very quick on his feet, and that leather nowadays is a treacherous fabric; furthermore that Lloyd George never had any leanings towards dandyism.

A Valuable Official

He Keeps Cranks From the Mayor's Office

Before a visitor gets to Mayor Mitchell's office, or to the office of his secretary, Theodore Roussan, he must see Police Lieutenant William Kennel, the most thoroughly established character about the city hall. Mayors and mayors' secretaries come and go. So do visitors. But not so Kennel. For more than twenty years and through seven administrations, ranging all the way from Tammany to reform, his gold, light blue eyes has given the "once over" to callers on the city father. He can spot a crank as far as he can see one, can judge almost on sight whether he is dangerous or not, and can dispose of harmless ones gently and dangerous ones with promptness and efficiency.

"We had two of those birds this week," he said to me when I made some inquiry about the subject. "The king of England called this morning, just for a friendly little chat. A dirty looking fellow he was, but harmless. And Tuesday we had the little old lady that owns all the street cars on Broadway. She's been in before—thirty to come around and watch her cars keep going by. She says she doesn't care about making money, but 'em, nor how much people use 'em, so long as the motormen don't forget to bring 'em back at night. She doesn't like to have her cars left lying around."

There is real need for a man like Kennel at the city hall. Mayor Gaynor died as the result of a bullet wound, and Mitchell's life has been threatened. Collier's Weekly.

Grain Shipped by Pacific Route

According to press reports a test shipment of grain, consisting of 100,000 bushels, is being made to the United Kingdom from Vancouver, British Columbia, in the steamer, War Viceroy. The consignment amounts to about eighty carloads of wheat, Canadian wheat, and amounts to over 3,000 tons. Should this test shipment be successful, a large portion of the grain of the Prairie Provinces will probably be moved by this route in the future.

The Imperial Bank of Germany has been compelled to put out 359,000 marks' more paper money, bringing up the note circulation to more than 2,200,000,000 above the amount outstanding at the same date last year.
